

Ohmsett to Attend the Clean Gulf Conference & Exhibition November 17-19, 2009 in New Orleans, LA

LEONARDO, NJ – OHMSETT, The National Oil Spill Response Test Facility, will be exhibiting at the 19th Annual Clean Gulf 2009 Conference & Exhibition, <http://www.cleangulf.org> from November 17-19, 2009 at the Morial Convention Center. More than 65 speakers and over 25 sessions will present timely updates and discussion on the latest developments in regulatory and operational issues.

This year's theme "Preparedness and Response in an All-Hazards World" reflects that challenges that persist in the industry sectors and government agencies that work together to protect the environment.

OHMSETT Mechanical Engineer, Paul Meyer will present a technical paper entitled, "Development of an ASTM Stationary Skimmer Test Protocol - Phase 3: Application." Hear about the process of testing to the newly adopted ASTM Skimmer Test Protocol.

Plan now to attend the spill industry event of the year. OHMSETT will have an exhibit on the conference floor at Booth #613. Please stop by and say "Hello" to Bill, Paul and Jane and find out about the latest testing, research and training projects at Ohmsett. Be our guest at the exhibition by calling Jane Delgado at 301-230-4565 or e-mail jdelgado@marinc.com for a free exhibition pass.
